

BALTIMORE AD CLUB
HEARS D. C. LEADER

Harold R. Levi, president of the Washington Ad Club, addressed the members of the Baltimore Ad Club at their headquarters in the Hotel Emerson yesterday.

More than 300 Baltimore business men were in attendance.

President Levi took for his subject, "What the Baltimore Ad Club Can Do for Washington and What the Washington Ad Club Can Do for Baltimore."

The speaker dwelt particularly on the co-operation already extended to the Washington Ad Club by the Baltimore organization in helping the local club to organize a better business bureau for the improvement of advertising and backing it up in the stores in a way that will make every advertisement not only a better advertisement for the store whose signature it bears, but a help to advertising in general.

Promises were made, in the name of the Washington Ad Club, to reciprocate in matters of information looking toward the improvement of all advertising.

In conclusion, President Levi congratulated the Baltimore Ad Club upon the success of its membership drive just concluded and which brings the membership well over 700. He predicted that the drive about to be launched by the Washington Ad Club would put the local membership over the 250 mark.

Memorial Fund Drive. The drive for the Edith Cavell-Marie DePage Memorial Fund was opened yesterday with a meeting at the home of Mrs. Lars Anderson. The meeting was well attended by women prominent socially and as leaders and meeting was well attended by women organizations. A most sympathetic interest was shown in the movement and almost $1,000 contributed to the fund by those present. In addition to this the Riggs National Bank, which is acting as treasurer for the fund, reported $1,000 received prior to the opening of the drive, making a good start to the sum hoped for from the district.

This fund is for the purpose of erecting an international hospital in memory of Edith Cavell in the city where she spent her last years and where she gave her life to the cause of humanity, and of Marie DePage, another heroic nurse who made the supreme sacrifice. The indomitable spirit of these two heroic women is recognized by all the world and all nationalities are responding to the appeal made by the Belgian committee heading this world-wide movement. This committee is under the patronage of the King of Belgium. America will not be last in her contribution, for the brutality of the execution of Edith Cavell and the horror of the sinking of ships with women on them were two chief causes for the United States entering the war. The fund raised in Washington will be presented to the King and Queen of Belgium on their visit here.

It is hoped that all women who so willingly responded to service during the war and all men who appreciate the work of the women in this greatest of wars will contribute $1 or more to this cause. All contributions will be received by the Riggs Bank and should be marked Edith Cavell-Marie DePage Memorial Fund.

Mrs. Anderson, wife of Lars Anderson, former minister to Belgium and ambassador to Japan, is chairman of the committee for the district. This committee is under the patronage of the Ambassador of Belgium and Baroness de Cartier de Marchienne. Newberry, wife of Senator Newberry; Mrs. William Corcoran Hill, Miss Mabel Boardman, the Misses Patten, Mrs. William Crozier, Mrs. Albert Reddock, Mrs. George Dewey, Mrs. Richard Townsend, Mrs. A. G. McClintock, Mrs. Frederic H. Gillette, Mrs. Hare Lipincott, Mrs. William Flather, and Miss Hall.

Miss Frances Adams Halstead is secretary of the committee, the Riggs National Bank, treasurer, Mrs. Isaac Pearson, president, Mrs. William Albert Du Puy, second vice president, and Miss Marie C. Redfern, secretary of the League of American Penwomen, who are in charge of publicity arranging for public meetings and speakers for the district. Mrs. Susan Root Rhodes represents the "Playground Association" and public schools; Mrs. Katharine Knight, of the District Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs. Howard Hume the Medical Association and Mrs. Robert O'Brien, mother of Captain Glenn of the British Embassy, the British War Relief Society.

Will Wed in Baltimore. The marriage of Miss Rose Wood, daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. Peter Bryson Wood, to Philip Graham Connell, son of Charles J. Connell and Mrs. J. H. Connell, of Chicago, will take place on October 4 in the Belvedere Hotel, Baltimore. Miss Wood, who is the guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Lieut. Comdr. William N. Jeffers, will be accompanied by Arthur B. Kinsolving, rector of St. Paul's Church, and will be followed by a breakfast.

Mrs. S. E. Davis was hostess at a small luncheon yesterday at the Cafe St. Marks.

An exquisite wedding in every detail took place on Tuesday night in Takoma Park when Miss Catherine Elizabeth Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Johnson, became the bride of James Wilmer Martin, of Beaver Falls, Pa.

The ceremony was performed in Trinity Episcopal Church, Takoma Park, at 8 p. m., by the Rev. Christian Young, rector of the church. He was assisted by the Rev. B. H. Long, of Philadelphia.

Miss Johnson was attended by Miss Louise Reeside as maid of honor, and six bridesmaids, who included her sister, Miss Eleanor Johnson, Miss Grace Wheeler, Miss Frances Ashford, Miss Elizabeth Meyers, Miss Genevieve Walker and Miss Helen Harrison.

Miss Lucetta Hardesty, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl. Mr. Martin had B. D. Hardesty of Syracuse, N. Y., as best man, and his ushers were Alvin Letchworth, Kenneth W. Spencer, Arthur Lucha, and Dudley Brown, and George Ireland. The bride, who came in in the arm of her father was becomingly gowned in a handsomely draped dress of ivory white bridal satin heavily embroidered with pearls, with graceful court train lined in silver cloth. Her veil was arranged with a coronet of orange blossoms and rosepoint lace, and her only ornament was a string of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and stephanotis.

Pastel shades predominated in the dress of the attendants producing a beautiful effect against the green and white decorations of the church.

Miss Reeside was attractively gowned in silver-tone rose satin draped in tulle with large picture hat to match, and she carried an arm bouquet of tea-roses and snapdragons tied with blue satin ribbon.

The bridesmaids wore gowns of Georgette crepe with large hats of the same material, two in pink, two in orchid, and two in yellow, and they all carried pink roses and snapdragons tied with pink tulle. The flower girl was in a frock of white ruffled suit with a sash of pink satin and she carried a basket of pink roses.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents in Peters street in Takoma Park, to which a large number of guests were invited. The front room where the bride party received the guests was elaborately decorated in green and white, and gardenias, dahlias and palms were used in the dining room. Mrs. Johnson, mother of the bride, received with the wedding party, wearing a gown of orchid satin embroidered in sequins of the same tone and trimmed with tulle. Mrs. William H. Martin, mother of the bridegroom, who also received with them, wore a gown of Georgette crepe of dark blue and dark red. Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Martin left for wedding trip, the latter wearing a traveling suit of dark brown silver-toned with a light blue beaver cloth tam o' shanter. After an extended wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Martin will return for a visit with the bride's parents and later make their home in Beaver Falls, Pa.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. William H. Martin, of Beaver Falls, parents of the bridegroom; Mrs. Harry Davidson, of Beaver Falls, sister of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Hardesty, brother-in-law and sister of the bridegroom, and little Miss Lucetta Hardesty, of Syracuse, N. Y., and Mrs. Frank Larsson and Miss Helen Larsson, of Elmira, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Long, of Philadelphia; and Miss Genevieve Walker and Miss Margaret Barker, of Virginia.

GOOD AIR LANDING
FIELDS IN WEST

Aviator Harts Reports Excellent Flying Facilities in Montana.

Col. R. S. Harts, commanding officer of Bolling Field, who is making a circuit of the United States in a Martin bombing machine, reported to the Air Service many wonderful landing fields on all tablelands of western Montana.

Colonel Harts made a flight from Miles City to Billings, Mont., yesterday, a distance of 146 miles, in 116 minutes, average altitude 8,700 feet, and reported "wonderful visibility." He "picked up" rosebud snow-capped mountains at Miles City, flew over the mountains at a 14,000 foot elevation and had a visibility of 204 miles.

Colonel Harts was never without emergency landing fields on his flights in that part of the country. He was scheduled to begin his flight over the Rockies today and estimated the necessary elevation at 12,000 feet. While he was flying in a powerful twin-motor airplane, Colonel Harts believes small planes also would be safe following the route, he has taken.

'BOSTON FRANK' IS AGAIN 'IN STIR'

"Boston Frank" has been out again and is in a long time. He will not be gone again for a long time.

Edward Simmons, a "Boston" prisoner to be known, was held for the action of the grand jury by Judge John P. McMahon, in the United States branch of Police Court this morning, following arraignment on a charge of "grand larceny."

In his fifty-four years Simmons has spent twelve whole years in the "strut," as he says. He left the Maryland State penitentiary yesterday, and Detective Berman, of Washington police headquarters, arrested him at the gate on a charge of stealing a $75 stickpin from the Whitmore, Lynn, and Alden Company here.

"I've bucked the game for twenty-five years," Simmons said today, "and $25,000 has slid through my fingers. I never get out of this I intend to go straight, as I have said before."

Simmons will be arrested by Salem, Mass., authorities after serving his sentence for the District police.
